

抓住春天的尾巴，我和几位摄影人相邀打卡位于永定区天门山镇余家山的“天门之镜”。为了拍到完美的天门倒影，需要伏在地上，将镜头最大限度地贴近水面。相机光圈调小，增加饱和度，让照片色彩更明快，然后等待水面无风最平静的时候，按下快门。因为该照片前景灌溉水田在立夏插秧后就消失了，所以想前往打卡的读者建议在春耕起，立夏前。

Grasping the tail of spring, several photographers and I made an appointment to daka the "Mirror of Tianmen" in Yujiaoshan, Tianmenshan Town, Yongding District. In order to capture the perfect reflection of Tianmen, you need to lie prone the ground and bring the lens as close to the water as possible. The camera's aperture is reduced to increase the saturation to make the color of the photo clearer, and then wait for the calmest when there is no wind on the water, press the shutter. Because the foreground irrigated-paddy field of this photo disappears after planting seedlings in Beginning of Summer, readers who want to go to daka suggest beginning of spring ploughing and before Beginning of Summer.

Just after the heavy rain, pedestrians unhurriedly walked over the suspension bridge in Jiangya Town, Cili County. Uncle Li, who was going to work on the other side of the bank, left without an umbrella, and no one expected the heavy rain to strike back. The other people who had prepared for it all calmly propped up the umbrella, and he quickly took off his coat and took the clothes as an umbrella, which was full of fun.
